ONE USES A KNIFE, THE OTHER A PISTOL. JEALOUSY THE CAUSE IN ONE INSTANCE-THE SECOND ATTEMPT OF A CUBAN.

Gottlieb Frey, a German beer seller, committed suicide in his barroom, at No. 174 Chrystie-st., at nine o'clock yesterday morning. The weapon he used was a sausage knife one inch wide and six inches long. He thrust the blade between his ribs directly into his heart, the point of the knife entering the apex. The desperate man fell on the floor of his barroom and died almost before the sound of his falling body had drawn his wife from an adjoining room. He was forty-five years old and had been in this country only three years. He had been married twice. His second marriage was made a a year ago. He had a married daughter by his first wife. Between his son-in-law and his wife and her step-daughter bad feeling existed, and gave annovance to Frey. His business also declined. Lately he had become intensely jealous of his wife, but she declared that she gave him no cause beyond drinking beer with customers. He said to her that he had heard taps on his window at night, and had once found the boil of the door unfastened. She denied his accusations but he did not seem satisfied. Just after breakfast vestcrady he called her to him, kissed her tenderly and went into the barroom and killed himself.

Deputy Coroner Donlin viewed the body and gave a death certificate to the widow.

Eurico Ladou, a Cuban, age thirty-two, unmarried and a journeyman cigar-maker, was found SECOND ATTEMPT OF A CUBAN.

Deputy Coroner Donlin viewed the body and gave a death certificate to the widow.

Eurico Ladou, a Cuban, age thirty-two, unmarried, and a journeyman eigar-maker, was found dead in his bed at Mrs. Brady's lodging-house, No. 1319. Oliver-st., yesterday at 1:20 p. m. A bullethole in his right temple and a 32-calibre revolver on the bed at his side showed that his death was due to his own act. The pillowcase under his head was scorched with the powder from the pistol. Mrs. Brady said that the dead man had been an early riser, but he failed to answer the repeated call, when she broke in his door. His lamp was still burning and nearly empty: eigars and eigar-ettes lay on his ta ", as if he had designed to smoke. It appears that on Saturday afternoon he attempted to shoot himself in the hall of No. 3 Christie-st., where he was visiting a number of Cubans, but he was prevented and his pistol was taken from him. He then pawned his pea-jacket and bought another pistol. He came in between six and seven o'ciock and went directly to his room. Soon afterward Mrs. Brady heard a pistol-shot, but she thought it was in the street. Atmidnight when she went up-stairs Ladou's lamp was still burning, but she thought he might be reading or dozing and would soon put it out.

No cause is assigned for the Cuban's act. He was making good wages and had steady work. He is said to have been of a quarrelsome disposition, and he habitually carried a pistol, though it was not generally known. About three months ago he is reputed to have fired a shot at the son of the landlady at No. 3 Chrystie-st. He had grown dissipated of late and seemed suffering from consumption. He spent a great deal of money on patent medicines.

The body was sent to the Morgue, It is probable that the Cuban's of the city will conduct the funeral, although he always refused to join any association.

TRAVEL YET IMPEDED BY SNOW AND ICE.

Commissioner Coleman's force of street cleaners were busy yesterday and last night removing the snow and lee from some of the more travelled thoroughfares. There are a good many of the business streets, however, where travel is much impeded by reason of the snow. Broadway from the Battery to Forty-second-st, is well cleaned. There is little trace of the three violent storms which sacceeded each other so closely. The ferry streets, Wall, Fulton, Roosevelt, Cortlandt, Liberty, Barclay, and Chambers, are clear. Laborers completed yesterday the task of piling up the snow and ice in the middle of the roadway in Fifth-ave., from Washington Square to Fifty-minth-st. It made a breastwork from six to eight feet high, and about six feet thick. West Broadway, the Bowery and Canal-st. are in passable condition. In Twenty-third-st, the snow is piled up on each side of the roadway, in places more than ten feet high, causing a great deal of inconvenience to the residents. In the avenues and streets traversed by surface railways, the car tracks are clear, but on both sides the snow and ice are piled up, ausing much trouble to teamsters. West-st, for most of its length is in good condition, considering the enormous snow-fall. In the narrow business streets down town the greatest inconvenience is felt. Loaded trucks are stalled and cause blockades every hour of the day. And this will continue until the snow is carried away by a thaw. Commissioner Coleman has already expended more than $10,000 in removing snow and ice. The most that he can hope to accomplish is to keep the most travelled thoroughfaires clear. Even this leads to a large expenditure. For 1884, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has allowed $50,000 for the removal of snow and ice. THE PRESIDENCY OF THE ALDERMEN.

The negotiations for the Presidency of the new Board of Aldermen have thus far resulted in nothing practical. Tammany Hall insists that, having elected the larger number of Aldermen, it is entitled to the Presidency. The County Democracy members will not concede this, and say that Tammany having heid the Presidency for two years should be willing to yield it to the County Democracy for 1884. Tammany proposes to hold a joint cancus, and as the number of members of each faction is now the same owing to the appointment of Alderman-elect Croker to be fire Commissioner, this isl ooked upon by some as a fair proposition. The County Democracy members evidently fear treachery on the part of some of their number, for they have refused thus far to accept this proposition. The County Democracy members evidently fear treachery on the part of some of their number, for they have refused thus far to accept this proposition. Alderman Wm. P. Kirk is the Tammany candidate for President, and John O'Neill that of the County Democracy. Both are sanguine of success.

The Republican members-elect have agreed on no plan of action, except to wait and watch the course of events. It is among the possibilities that either the Tammany Hall or County Democracy faction may become tired of a dead-lock and agree to unite with the Republicans. This has once been done. In 1880 John J. Merris, Republican, was chosen President by a combination of Republican and Tammany members. There is no reason why it should not be repeated. Tammany Hall has no favors to ask from the Tilden-Manning wing of the party. It has fought for all that it has recieved.

JUSTIGE GARDNER'S SUCCESSOR.

JUSTICE GARDNER'S SUCCESSOR.

The pressure for Police-Justice Gardner's place continues. His term ends with the present year. Tammany leaders are working strongly for Charles Welde, the leader of the XXIIId Assembly District Tammany delegation in the General Committee, The Mayor has been strongly arged to nominate him, and if a Democrat is named he is likely to be the man. But the Mayor is much more likely to name a Republican, and if he dots, Justice Gardner will probably succeed himself, provided, of course, he can secure his confirmation. The Mayor is quoted as having said soon after he was elected that he would nominate no Republican during his term of office nor appoint one. If he did say so, he has seen reason to moderate his views somewhat. The fact that both houses of the Legislature are Republican, and that there will be more or less lenslation affecting the city, may have its effect on the Mayor. Certain it is that those who are very close to the Mayor believe that he will nominate Justice Gardner. Ex-Police Justice Bankson T. Morgan and Police Captain Steers, both popular Republicans, and with hosts of warm friends, are being pushed for the place, but thus far without making much impression. Meautine, the Mayor keeps his commel and does not intimate whether or not he will send in his nomination to the new or the old Board of Aldermen. The old board retains office until Monday, January 7, and the Mayor has ten days from the expiration of the term of office in which to send in his nomination to the Aldermen.

MR. GROW EXPLAINS HIS RETICENCE. MR. GROW EXPLAINS HIS RETICENCE.

Ex-Governor Galusha A. Grow, of Pennsylvania, has been staying for a few days at the Victoria Hotel, where a Tribune reporter sought to get from him an expression of opinion on public topics, with this result: "I'm out of politics; when a man has a contract to furnish 109,000 tons of coal annually to the Grand Trunk Railroad, he has no time to study politics. Unless one is inside, his opinions are worthless. When I was in politics I knew what was going on, and was willing to say. Now I only know what I read in the papers, and frequently I find in them interviews from men who I suspect are farther outside than I. The public may be deceived by a belief that they know something, but it must make sport for those who really do know what is going on. No, I'll not talk, if you please."

THURMAN NEVER CRAZY BUT ONCE. At the St. James Hotel last evening Virgil P. Kline, a prominent Democrat and lawyer of Cleveland, said to a TRIBUYE reporter: "Mr. Payne will be elected Senator, I taink. His canvass has been in able hands."

"What about Thurman?"

"Well, if Mr. Payne is defeated, it will be by Thurman."

"How about Thurman for President?"

"He is a very able man, and would make an excellent President if his health were good, which I understand is not the ease. He never went crazy but once—when he made that greenback speech at Hamilton."

TURSUIT AND CAPTURE OF BURGLARS.

The house of G. S. Croker, of No. 217 East Eightenth-st., was entered yesterday morning by burglars, who ransacked the house from top to bottom. Mr. Croker, who was asleep in the back parlor, was awakened by a noise as if some one walking, and seeing a light in the basement procured a revolver and ran down to the lower floor in time to see three young men dash out of the basement door, each one with a large bundle under his arm. The burglars separated, two going in the direction of Third-ave, while the other ran toward Second-ave. Mr. Croker fired in the direction of the two fugitives, but without effect, and turning, fired at the solitary thief with like result. His pistol shots were 5-ard, however, by Officers Joyce, Gilbride and Hogan, who pursued the fugitives and captured them at I wentieth-st, and Third-ave. Jewelry and PURSUIT AND CAPTURE OF BURGLARS.

clothing stolen from Mr. Croker were found in their possession, and along the line of pursuit several bundles of wearing apparel were found. The prisoners gave their names as John Kerr, age twenty, of No. 426 Second-ave., Henry Harvey, age twenty, of No. 212 West Fourteenth-st., and Thomas Chrystal, age twenty-two, of No. 685 Second-ave. Justice Murray, in the Yorkville Police Court, held them each in $5,000 bail.

EXHIBITIONS NOT INTERFERED WITH.

When the doers of the Academy of Design were opened at 9 a. m. yesterday, F. Hopkinson Smith but his head out and glanced anxiously around for the officers of the law, whom he half expected to see waiting on the stoop armed with warrants for his arrest. But his expectations were unfulfilled. Neither then, nor any time daring the day, was any attempt made to close the doors by legal means. "I expect," said Mr. smith, late in the afternoon, "that we shall sell over 4,000 tickets to-day, for over 3,000 have been sold already, and the people are still pouring in. I had intended to speak to as many as possible and find out what their week-day vocatious might be, but I have been too busy to make many such inquiries. Of the four men I did speak to, however, one was a worker in bronze, another a wood-carver, another a designer and the fourth a school teacher. All except the latter said that it was impossible for them to come in the evening, and the school-teacher said that even he felt too tired as a rule to render an evening visit a pleasure. Anyhow, none of the four would have seen the exhibition if it had not been open to-day. By the way, there is one thing I should like to say relative to this unfortunate discussion. There has been no personal feeling of an unpleasant nature between myself and my fellow directors and the Council of the Academy of Design. From every point of view I have the highest respect and regard for Mr. Huntington, though on some points our views may not coincide, and I am in daily expectation of a letter from him which will still further clear away doubts on this point."

The American Art Gallery in Madison Square was open yesterday from 2 to 6 p. m. The Clarke collection of American pictures is on exhibition the interest of which $300 will be given annually to the best figure painting in the spring exhibition of the Academy of Design. There were during the four hours of the exhibition 657 paying visitors, many of whom were journalists and artists. Mr. Kirby w EXHIBITIONS NOT INTERFERED WITH.

ASSAULTED BY HIGHWAYMEN.

While James Geraghty, of Haverstraw, was passing through Bayard-st., between ten and eleven o'clock on Saturday night, he was assaulted by three men, two of whom held him while the third rifled his pockets of $20. He grasped one of his assatlants and held him till a poligeman came and took the ruflian into custody. He gave the name of Michael Carroll, age 24, of No. 500 Hicks-st., Brooklyn. On being arraigned before Justice Power yesterday at the Tombs Police Court, he was committed for trial without bail.

Peter A. Delambre, of No. 2,096 Second-ave., wss quietly walking in East One-hundred-and-sixteenth-st. on Saturday night when he was assaulted by two coung ruflians. They were Michael Hessian, of No. 2,135 Third-ave., and Austin Grogam, of No. 162 East One-hundred-and-tenth-st. They threw him down in a snow bank and beat and kicked him. One of his assailants seized his thumb between his teeth and bit it, causing an ugly wound. Finally an officer appeared and the ruflians were taken into custody. Yesterday they were held for trial by Justice O'Reilly in the Harlem Police Court.

MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL STATISTICS.

The patrons and friends of the Mount Sinai Hospital met vesterday in the hospital building at Sixty-sixth-st, and Lexington-ave, to listen to the annual report of the institution and to elect officers for the ensuing year. While the meeting was in progress Dr. Lasker, of Berlin, was introduced amid loud applause. At the close of the reading of the reports he made a few remarks in German expressing his appreciation of the reception given him and his admiration for charity and its fruits. The report of the Treasurer showed that for the vear ending November 30, 1883, there had been expended for the support of the hospital and dispensary, the sum of $65,447.69; for buildings and improvements, $24,713.95; for ground rent and interest, $147.35; making a total of $90,308.99. DOINGS OF WORKINGMEN.

DOINGS OF WORKINGMEN.

A recent necting of tugboat men was held yesterday afternoon at No. 193 Bowery, for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization. There were 250 men present, forty-seven of whom have signed the roil of membership since the last meeting. A permanent organization was effected under the name of the Steamboat Men's Benevolent and Protection Association of New-York Harbor, A committee was appointed to receive reports from the members on the condition of the hulls and boilers of every steamboat in the harbor. After the reports have been prepared, a statement to the public will be drawn up and printed, calling attention to the condition of the boats and the violations of the law which so frequently lead to explosions, collisions and other accidents.

A meeting of the "Longshoremen's Unions of New-York and Brooklyn was held yesterday in St. James Hotel, at New Bowery and James-st. The difficulty which has arisen between the 'longshoremen and the coal-shovellers was considered, and a committee was appointed to confer with the coal-shovellers, with instructions to surgest to them that they stop "lumping" for forty cents an hour and join the 'Longshoremen's Union.

A meeting of the New-York Labor Lyccum was held last night at No. 295 Bowery. The subject under discussion was "Conservatism: its relation to social progress." The debate was participated in by Leander Thompson, Edward King and others. The workingmen of the lower wards have organized the West side Mutual Benefit Association. It pays it members a weekly sick benefit; and a stated amount goes to the relatives at the death of a member. Its memberships confined to workingmen.

The regular meeting of the Oentral Labor Union was held yesterday afternoon in Odd-Fellows' Hall, at Bowery and second-st. John Doran, of the House-spainters Union, presided. The Organization Committee was instructed to agitate the subject of eight hours as a day's work.

TWO DOG FIGHTS ON LONG ISLAND.

The early trains on the Long Island Railroad yesterday conveyed a number of "sporting" men to a quiet little hamlet near a well-known summer resort on the Atlantic coast. Their object was to witness a dog fight. Two hundred and ten men were at the rendezvous. The first fight was between Ned, a brindle dog weighing twenty-three pounds, and Sport, a white dog with black spots, weighing twenty-three and a quarter pounds. The fight was for $200, and the betting was lively.

Ned got a good hold when the dogs were let go and they rolled and tambled around the pit. Both bled freely and neither had an advantage. In the second and third scratches Ned gained ground, and in the fourth he was declared the winner after fighting one hour and forty minutes.

While Ned and Sport were chewing each other another fight was taking place not many miles away, between Fly, a brindle weighing 21-9 pounds, of Greenpoint, and Jip, a white with a black spot on his right eye, owned in Brooklyn. They were to fight for $25 a side and the gate money. There were about fifty persons present. Fly was the favorite in the betting. When the dogs were let go, Fly got hold of Jip's throat and it was so clear that he was the best dog that Jip's backers gave up the fight, saying that they did not want their dog killed. William Wall, age 20 of No. 43 Park-ave, in the Yorkville Police Court yesterday, said that on December 1 he received the following note from a messenger boy. It was written in pencil, on a sheet of cream-colored note-paper:
Billy Wall: I want you to be here at my house between now and 6 o'clock, to settle for the damage of last night. If you are not here by that time, you will be arrested with your friends. To keep out of trouble and keep the thing quiet, you had better come, and nothing will be done to you. Answer. Mrs. Le Veve,

He was escorted to the Gilsey House, and thence to a bar-room at Twenty-ninth-st, and Broadway, where Ward displayed a pistol, and remarked that it would have been an easy matter to have used the weapon. Mr. Wall made his escape, and had Ward arrested. He was held by Justice Murray on the charge of impersonating an officer.

THE SOUND STEAMER WATERBURY.

THE SOUND STEAMER WATERBURY. The steambeat Laura, of the Bridgeport Steam-boat Company, has been almost rebuilt and her name has been changed to the Waterbury. The hall name has been changed to the Waterbury. The built has been planked from stem to stem with 3-inch oak plank, and she has been litted with a new stem, stem-post and rudder, and a new keel 230 feet in length. Is inches wide by 8 inches deep and entirely of oak. Between the iron hull and the oak planking tarred paper has been used to protect the iron from corrosion by the wood acids, and to protect the boat against ice she has been sheathed with heavy yellow metal. The alterations in the hull give her 5 inches more free-board, 6 inches more beam, and a capacity for 75 more tons freight with the same draft of water. The interior alterations include new staterooms, ladies' cabins, gentlemen's cabin, a capacious saloon, new carpets, new bedcabin, a capacious saloon, new carpets, new bedding, etc., and she is heated throughout by steam. She will make her first trip from New-York to Bridgeport at 11 a. m. to-day.

Seven physicians visited the jail yesterday, to examine James Graves, who is under seatenes to be hanged next Thursday, for killing Eddie Loden, age thirteen. It is asserted that the prisoner, who is sixty-eight years old, is imbecile; and although the Coart of Pardous has refused to commute his sentence, his counsel will bring the case before the Court again to-day. The doctors were: Dr. E. C. Spitzka, of New-York; and Drs. O'Gorman, Hagen, Lehmacher, Stickney, Young and Kuechler, of Newark. After spending over an hour with Graves the physicians held a conference, and then drew up and signed an opinion, which will be presented to the Court of Pardous. They are agreed that the prisoner is of unsound mind, and that it would be shameful to hang him. Dr. Spitzka said: "Graves is as abject a lunatic as was ever confined in an asylum." NEWARK.

HAPPY NEW YEAR-1884.

Happy Year! Bright New Year! Eighteen-Eighty-four is here! Time of pleasant salutation, Time of kind congratulation! Time of happy social meetings, Time of good old-fashioned greetings; Time of home hilarity; Time of generous charity ; Time for worthy resolution, So: times missing execution. Bright the prospect-never brighter; Clear the skies are-never lighter ; Seems as if the heavens o'er us

Speak of luck and profit for us. Yet the wise and careful student Of the future should be prudent. Spite our very best intention, Risks too numerous to mention Every hour of life befall us-Every day and night they call us To be wise and make provision

'Gainst disaster and collision Now make a useful resolution; Put it into execution ! On the Mutual Accident plan, Which avails for every man. Be in time-your life insuring-For your family securing Freedom from distressed vexation For yourself the compensation. Paid with regularity, Better than the best of charity. While disabled, if thus thrifty, You will be receiving fifty Greenback dollars every week, Stopping many a household leak. If you chance to lose your life, There's ten thousand for your wife !

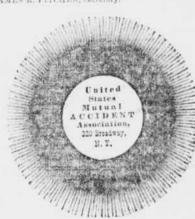

Eighteen-Eighty-four is here! Be wise! Insura! This bright New Year,
